1. An ammunition depot was located west of NOGRAD (Q 48/H 57) (see Annex). The depot area was surrounded by a barbed-wire fence, and was well camouflaged by woods. There were about 30 ammunition houses with tarpaper-covered roofs. The NOGRAD-SZOKOLYA road, which led past the depot, was closed to civilian traffic.
2. The depot was used by Soviet troops. Individual trucks were often seen entering or leaving the depot area up to August 1949. Convoys were not seen recently.
3. The depot guard personnel was estimated at 60.
4. The ammunition depot had been built in 1939, and was used for storage of German aircraft bombs during the war. The Soviets took it over after the war.
